100% EFFECTIVE STRIKE OCCURS IN THE CAPTIVE MINES

Threatens To Stop Wheels of Pittsburgh Defense-Vital Steel Mills

NO VIOLENCE OCCURS

26,000 Men Respond To John Lewis' "No Contract-No Work" Order

By James L. Kilgallen
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17—A virtually 100 per cent effective strike occurred on schedule today in the captive mines of Western Pennsylvania, threatening to stop the wheels of the Pittsburgh district's defense-vital steel mills.

No violence was reported anywhere in the area as close to 26,000 men responded to John L. Lewis, "no contract—no work" order. A total of 53,000 miners throughout the country are affected by the crisis.

Quietly and efficiently, the strike machinery of the United Mine Workers of America went into operation. Picket lines were light, in many cases serving only to notify and turn away miners who reported for work unaware of the strike order.

All but a few hundred of the bituminous miners struck, according to reports.

Hull Opens Negotiations With Kurusu

Washington, Nov. 17—Opening one of the most fateful diplomatic parleys in American history, Secretary of State Hull today begins momentous negotiations with Saburo Kurusu, special Japanese envoy, on troubled relations between the United States and Japan.

As the moment neared for launching of the Conference, it became known that America intends to concentrate on trying to convince Japan that a golden opportunity lies within its grasp if it abandons the policy of aggressive expansion in the Far East and remains neutral in the world struggle.

Kurusu is going to be told, in effect, Washington officials said, that if Japan stopped trying to subjugate China and ignored Axis pressure to enter the World War, it will quickly reap the benefits of a boom prosperity, as well as avoiding a disastrous conflict with the United States and other western powers in the Pacific.

Announce Annihilation of 4 German Battalions

Kuibyshev, Nov. 17—Annihilation of four German Infantry battalions on the Volokolamsk sector of the Moscow front was announced by the Moscow radio today.

Meanwhile, the Russian officials said, violent new German assaults around Kalinin, farther northwest of the capital, had been repulsed in bloody fighting, and on the Leningrad front the Nazis were reported digging in after losing 237,000 men.

A new high command bulletin said merely that fighting continued throughout the night on the entire front. The newspaper Pravda said German attacks in the Kestenga area finally failed after two solid weeks of fighting after the Germans lost 4,000 killed in the first 10 days.

Rock Battle Reported in Mine Strike

Gary, W. Va., Nov. 17—West Virginia provided the first report of violence in the captive mine strike today as UMW pickets and miners engaged in a ten minute rock battle at the No. 6 mine of the U. S. Coal and Coke Co., "big steel" subsidiary.

About 45 pickets were on duty at the mine as a group of miners reported for duty on the first shift. The miners entered the mine lamp house for equipment and as they emerged and started toward the pit, the pickets began to hurl rocks, the report stated.

Seven Killed in Highway Accidents

Philadelphia, Nov. 17—Seven persons were killed in highway accidents in Southeastern Pennsylvania over the week-end, a check-up showed today. The dead included Mrs. Elizabeth McClellan, 52, of Beechwood Park, a collateral descendant of Martha Washington.

LARDNER MORRIS DIES AT AGE OF 71 YEARS

Retired A Few Years Ago As Chief Engineer of Long Island Railroad

FUNERAL ON TUESDAY

Lardner Vanuxem Morris, retired chief engineer of the Long Island Railroad, died at his home, North Radcliffe street, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. He was 71 years of age, and had been ill but a few days.

Mr. Morris, the husband of the late Dorena Rockwell Morris, is survived by one brother, Sidney Morris, of Elmhurst, Illinois. He was the son of the late Richard Henry Morris and Alice Vanuxem Morris.

Born in Bristol, Mr. Morris returned here to reside following his retirement from active business about five years ago. He had resided for some time in Garden City, L. I.

He was a member of St. James' Episcopal Church; a member of the Loyal Legion; and of several engineers' clubs.

The Rev. George E. Boswell, rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, will officiate at the funeral service tomorrow at two o'clock, at the Morris home. Burial will be in St. James' Churchyard, with Robert C. Ruchel, funeral director, in charge.

TO PLAY CARDS

Mrs. Benjamin Ahart is the chairman of the card party to be given by the American Legion Auxiliary, in the Bracken Post home, this evening at 8:30. The prizes are announced as follows: four turkeys, silk stockings, motor oil, hand-crocheted items, and numerous other prizes. Members who have promised donations are requested to take them to the post home today.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

A talk on the making of pottery was given by Miss Delight Ansley, of Solebury, when 29 members of New Hope Junior Women's Club met in the Midway Fire Company station, last week. Five guests were present.

President Miss Ruth Buckman was in charge of the business session, with Miss Nellie Magill, chairman of the education committee, introducing the speaker.

Twenty-five people attended on Thursday evening the second of a series of four meetings, being held in various schools of Buckingham Township this month, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. Samuel C. Jefferson, of Pineville, is president.

Many Attend Funeral Of William I. Murphy

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 17—A large number of people attended the funeral of William I. Murphy, of Bristol, on Saturday morning. Mr. Murphy was instantly killed on Tuesday night in an automobile accident on the Lackawanna Trail north of Doylestown. The funeral service was held at the Church of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, where Requiem High Mass was sung.

The Rev. Father Sefton, assistant at the local Catholic Church, was in charge of the service at the church. Following out the wish of the former county official, who was a Spanish-American War veteran and a comrade of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, interment was made in the American Legion plot in the Doylestown Cemetery.

District Chaplain Captain George C. Butler, of the A. R. Atkinson, Jr., Post No. 210, American Legion, Doylestown, read the Legion ritual at the grave. The Legion provided the firing squad and the Doylestown High Band the bugler.

Hundreds of the late comrade's great host of friends attended the viewing Friday night. The Bristol Elks, attending in a body, carried out their impressive ceremony at the George R. Leattor funeral home. All organizations to which Mr. Murphy belonged were well represented. County officials, men and women in all walks of life, paid their last respects Friday night and at the funeral service Saturday morning.

The ball-bearers included Mulford Callanan, Bristol, former Clerk of Quakertown Sessions Court of Bucks county; John P. Betz, Bristol attorney; Francis J. Byers and Elton G. Ball, of Bristol; A. Russell Thomas, Frank T. Worthington and Everett Fretz, of the A. R. Atkinson, Jr., Post American Legion, of Doylestown; and Nicholas Power, of Phila., formerly of Doylestown.

GIRTON-BOYLE

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Lillian Boyle, of Philadelphia, to Mr. George K. Gorton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gorton, of Croydon. The ceremony was performed in Easton on November 7th.

DINNER-PARTY

A dinner party was arranged on Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. William Spezzano, Franklin street, in honor of the ninth birthday anniversary of their daughter, Veronica. The guests included: Lillian Whyne, Theresa Spinelli, Elizabeth Bometre, Margaret Ann Field, Anna Lucy SantaMaria, Anna Marie Greco, Congetta Martino, Mary DiLorenzo, Doris Paletta, of Bristol; and Theresa Churner, of Bristol. The guest of honor was presented with gifts.

The second meeting took place in the Friendship school house on Cold Spring Creamery Road, near Doylestown; and an excellent program was given.

Presenting the monthly report of school activities at the meeting of the Doylestown Township Parent-Teacher Association in the consolidated school building at Edison, on Thursday evening, Paul W. Kutz, principal of the school, announced that the children again will publish a school paper.

With the new president, Frank Trembley, in charge, about 30 persons attended the meeting, which was devoted mostly to the transaction of business. During the evening, Mr. Trembley introduced the chairman of all committees and stated the purposes of each committee. Group singing throughout the evening was directed by Miss Marie L. Barton, supervisor of music in the school.

Reports of school activities will be given at every meeting of the association by Mr. Kutz, and it was decided also to have health reports at all meetings. The latter will be given by the school nurse, Mrs. Hannah H. Pollock.

The Bucks county junior women's clubs held a presidents' council meeting in the Friends' meeting house, at Langhorne, last week.

Mrs. Edmund Dunn, Doylestown, presided. A poster contest is to be held in conjunction with the annual flower show at Southampton in May. A commendation concerning the scholarship student now studying at Maryville College, Tenn., was read.

Reports of the welfare international relations and home and citizenship committees were given.

Mrs. J. Carroll Molloy, Jr., Doylestown, reported two meetings she attended. The next meeting will be held in Southampton on March 26th, with the education and fine arts committee in charge.

Although he was exonerated, the jury directed that his privilege of driving a car be revoked for one year in the case of Charles R. Bacon, 22, Perkasee, R. D., charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Bacon was charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Milton Edward Harr, 9 Main street, South Perkasee, on September 25th, in a car-bicycle collision.

Dr. H. Clayton Moyer, of Blooming Glen, county coroner, was in charge of the inquest, held in the office of Justice of the Peace Mahlon Keller.

Constable Harry J. Wamhold, who investigated the accident which happened in South Perkasee, said the boy was pronounced dead upon arrival at Grand View Hospital, Sellersville.

BUS COMPANY TO TRY EXTENDED SCHEDULE

MAY BE PERMANENT

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 17—Extended bus service starting November 24, will be effective here, according to a letter read at a session of Borough Council. Residents of the fourth ward will benefit particularly. The Richmond Bus Lines will run as far south as Deiter avenue.

Residents of the Manor Park section affected recently met with council and urged that Israel Richmond, president of the bus company, start service below his present southern limit, Delaware avenue. The buses will travel the new route on certain busy hours of each day in a temporary and trial set-up.

The set-up will be for an indefinite period and temporary and should the bus company decide to definitely add this section to its regular route it will ask the Public Utility Commission for approval.

Andalusia Mothers' Ass'n Meets at Bloch Home

ANDALUSIA, Nov. 17—The Andalusia Mothers' Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. George Bloch on Thursday evening.

Those attending were: Mrs. William Lange, Mrs. H. Lehr, Mrs. A. Vickers, Mrs. J. Wilback, Mrs. T. MacDory, Mrs. C. Emmitt, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Harry Oliver.

TRAINEE TRANSFERRED

CAMP CROFT, S. C., Nov. 17—Leroy D. Thomas, son of Georgia Brown, Race street, Bristol, Pa., has been transferred from Camp Croft, one of the army's four infantry replacement training centers, following completion of his 13 weeks' training here. His new post is Fort Devens, Mass. During his 13 weeks here, he was assigned to Company C, 50th Battalion, a colored rifle unit.

GRASS FIRE

There was a grass fire at Fillmore and Radcliffe streets last evening. The Bristol Consolidated Department was called.

Friends Arrange A Party For Miss McLaughlin

Friends of Miss June McLaughlin, Beaver street, tendered her a surprise party Saturday evening in honor of her birthday anniversary. The affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rosser, McKinley street, with games and dancing forming the pastime. The guests presented Miss McLaughlin with a bracelet.

Refreshments were served to: the Misses Helen VanAken, Stella Klemczak, Mildred Brown, Mildred Kershaw; Messrs. Keith Rosser, Jr., Homer Hobbs, James Hopkins, Kenneth Herman, Harry Chapin, Carman Chalella, Bristol; Miss Helen Petty, Tullytown; Miss Jeanette Leinheiser, Edgely.

BENSALEM STUDENTS TO PRESENT DRAMA

"320 College Avenue" To Be Given at Cornwells Heights On Friday Evening

COLORFUL AND EXCITING

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 17—One of the most exciting and colorful dramas to be seen in recent years in the Bensalem Township high school is the senior class play, "320 College Avenue," which will be presented in the high school auditorium, Friday.

With a sorority house in a co-educational college for its setting, this snappy collegiate murder mystery has just enough murder and just enough mystery to captivate an audience.

The play opens with a dance in full swing; during a "cut-in" number one of the students is mysteriously murdered. When the city's hard-boiled detective fails to solve the mystery by his third-degreeing methods, the students agree to co-operate with one of their group who solves the mystery eventually by using a different technique.

Despite the murder angle the humorously written dialogue of the play makes it fairly sparkle with a comedy spirit that keeps things going at a lively pace.

The cast, composed chiefly of student types, is unusually large. Betty Judd, who delighted audiences last year in "Rose of the Danube," has the role of a popular college girl, president of her sorority. Other senior girls who add punch to the play as college students are Evelyn Groner, Doris Ely, Amelia Sullivan, Martha Copeland, Miriam Carlson, Ann Digiolemani, Leona Ardron, and Grace Van Horn.

Rivals for the favor of the most popular girl are two campus leaders, Lee and Billy, parts that are taken by Leonard Eldys and Gordon Cannon. Other college fellows are Charles Rittenhouse, Jack Blocker, Peter Everett, Dan Fleming, Bob Reed, Albert Vickers, William Johnston, and Walter Poston, the campus crooner.

One of the heaviest and most exciting parts of the play is that of the blundering detective, a role that is being played with unusual skill by Owen McGarity, a senior who has a long record of dramatic hits to his credit. Roy Sileox is amusing in his interpretation of the chief's assistant.

Sunday Wedding Occurs At St. Ann's R. C. Church

The marriage of Miss Anna Paglione and Mr. Thomas DiLorio, was an event of Sunday, the ceremony taking place in St. Ann's R. C. Church at three o'clock in the afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph Rubino, 847 Pine street; and Mr. DiLorio is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio DiLorio, Woodbourne.

Mr. Sebastian Paglione gave his sister in marriage, with the Rev. Fr. Peter Pinci officiating.

Miss Eleanor DiLorio, of Woodbourne, a sister of the groom; and Miss Catherine Quici, 845 Pine street, were the bridesmaids. Mr. DiLorio was attended by Mr. John Fusaro, of Andalusia, as best man.

The gown worn by the bride was fashioned of white figured taffeta, it being patterned with a V-neck, long sleeves, and a train. She wore a crown of rhinestones, and veil of tulle; her colonial style bouquet being of white roses.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of cornflower blue, with full, floor-length skirts; square necklines, gathered bodices, and short, puffed sleeves. Ruffles of self material and silver braid were used as trim on the skirts. Their off-the-face style hats were of cornflower blue with trim of yellow; and each maid wore silver slippers and carried yellow tea roses.

An evening reception was held in St. Ann's Club house. For a week's journey by automobile Mrs. DiLorio wore a silk crepe dress of red, silver fox chubby, black felt hat, and a corsage of orchids. The couple will reside with the bride's mother.

DINNER GUESTS

Miss Emma LaRue, a student at Beaver College, Jenkintown, entertained at dinner at her home in Bristol Township, yesterday, the following guests: the Misses Nancy Glover, of Massachusetts; Sue Lawrence, Yonkers, N. Y.; Jayne Handrick, Johnson City, N. Y.; and Carolyn Cotter, Long Island.

MAN KILLED WHILE CROSSING STREET HERE; ANOTHER INJURED; BOTH STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILES

Peter Miller Fatally Injured at Pond Street and Jefferson Avenue, Only Few Doors From His Home—Frank Russo Injured When Struck by Car at Wood and Walnut Streets, Saturday Evening

A Bristol man was killed and another man was injured on the streets here, Saturday evening, when struck by automobiles while crossing the street. Both accidents occurred at street intersections. It is the first fatal accident due to automobiles which has occurred here for nearly two years.

The man who was fatally hurt was Peter Miller, 50, 435 Jefferson avenue. The driver of the car striking Miller was, according to the police, Philip Mannherz, Edgely.

The man who was injured is Frank Russo, 63, 336 Lafayette street. Russo was struck by a car operated, police say, by Martin E. Clark, Elm street.

Miller was struck and killed at Pond street and Jefferson avenue, one of the busiest intersections in Bristol. It is believed that he had just alighted from a bus when the accident occurred.

Extend Date for Traffic Light Change in State

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17—(INS)—Improvement of outmoded traffic light systems in more than 1,000 Pennsylvania communities was hampered today by a shortage of materials that has developed under the national defense program.

Under the provisions of a law effective January 1, overhead traffic lights will be outlawed.

However, because of the inability of manufacturers to promptly deliver new traffic signal equipment, Highways Secretary I. Lamont Hughes said that the effective date of the law would be extended in most cases if local authorities would apply to the department.

"Most of the municipalities already have written for extensions," Hughes explained, "saying they wanted either to postpone the work or have it partially completed but couldn't get the material needed."

He added that most of the requests for extensions have been granted because it was practically impossible to investigate each case.

MONEY FROM BRISTOL AIDS ENGLISH HOSPITAL

Blood Pressure Apparatus Purchased for Use in Bristol, England

CASH FROM BRISTOL, PA.

A total of $175 raised last summer by Bristol Unit of the Lower Bucks County Chapter of Bundles For Britain has been of great aid to a maternity hospital in Bristol, England, according to word received here.

This week a letter was received from Mrs. Kathleen Deane, secretary of Bristol Maternity Hospital, and Temporary Home, Bristol, England, the organization benefiting from this donation. New York headquarters had failed to mention the fact that this came from the Bristol Unit, but this has since been taken care of. The letter, which follows, explains the use to which the money has been put:

"About three weeks ago, when I was on holiday we got from Mrs. Murrow a donation from your branch of Bundles for Britain a most welcome gift of $175, $25 of which was to be spent on medical and surgical supplies. In my absence a formal acknowledgment was sent to Mrs. Murrow's Dept., and it was left for me to write you a letter of individual thanks for your members. Our committee met a few days ago and are deeply grateful for your kind thought of us. Quite apart from the money, it means such a lot to us to realize the staunch friendship which has promoted the gift. In Ireland we have a phrase 'a good back' meaning a friend on whom we could rely and American women have indeed been a 'good back' to the women of Britain. Now you will like to hear how your special gift has been used. I am today writing a check for a 300 MM Baumanometer—a blood pressure apparatus which is essential to our work. Our previous one was of German make and could not be repaired anywhere in England and we think in any case was beyond repair. This one is an American make and we feel sure nothing will ever come between our country and yours to render its repair or replacement impossible."

"The Committee would be glad to know if there is any point of contact between any member of your branch, and this hospital. They are at a loss to understand why you have fixed on us except there is some such reason."

MRS. WOOLEY TO SPEAK

ANDALUSIA, Nov. 17—The Andalusia P. T. A. will meet in the school house at eight o'clock this evening. The speaker will be Mrs. Martha Wooley, who will talk on "Civil Defense Work in Bucks County."

Mannherz told the police that he had left his place of employment between 9 o'clock and 9:15 and was en route to his home when the accident happened. He said that he had stopped for the traffic light at Pond and Lafayette streets, one block from the scene of the accident, and that he was watching a bus which he thought was about to make a left turn as he approached Jefferson avenue and Pond street, when suddenly he saw a man in the roadway in front of his car. He said that he had passed the intersection about 30 feet. Mannherz says that he stopped his car within about 18 feet.

Andrew J. Barcoe, Edgely, and another man who Mannherz did not know, assisted, and Miller was taken to the Harriman Hospital.

Mannherz was taken into custody by the police and later released under bail to await the action of the coroner. Mannherz was recently a witness before a coroner's jury here in a fatal accident occurring on Route 13, south of Bristol. He was not involved in this accident in any manner, however.

Miller came to Bristol from Chester about 17 years ago when the tannery was established at the Lucius Beebe plant, here. When this plant closed he obtained a position with Burk Brothers, a leather firm in Philadelphia, where he has been employed, but he continued to make his home with his family here in Bristol.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Agatha; one son, Peter, 17, and a daughter, Isabella, 15.

Miller visited in Burlington yesterday afternoon and was returning to his home at about 9:20 Saturday evening when the accident occurred.

The funeral for Mr. Miller is planned for Wednesday at nine a. m. from his late residence, with High Mass in St. Ann's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Mark's Cemetery, with Galzerano, funeral director, in charge.

Russo was struck by a car driven by Martin E. Clark at Wood and Walnut streets at about 8:30 Saturday evening. Russo was crossing Walnut street. Clark was driving south on Walnut street.

The injured man was taken to the

Two Youths Found In Car; Returned To Parents

Thomas Fowler, 30, Liberty street, Trenton, N. J., was surprised last night when he found that he had two uninvited riders in his car. Fowler was visiting in Tullytown and started home at about 10:30 when, after going a short distance, he heard a noise in the rear of his sedan. Upon investigation he found two young boys cringing upon the floor of the car.

Fowler turned around and drove to the Bristol police station where the boys upon being questioned gave their names as Clayton Doman, 15, of Lee street, and John Mastack, 15, of Thompson street, Philadelphia. The youths said they were en route to visit an aunt of one of the lads in New York. They had no money.

The boys' parents were notified through the Philadelphia police of the 10th District and came to Bristol this morning at one o'clock to take their sons back to Philadelphia and warm beds.

"We thought you were going fishing," queried the parents as they confronted their offerings.

Home Nursing Class Is To Start This Evening

POWER SHORTAGE

The "gasoline shortage" along the Eastern Seaboard was a myth, as the more erudite citizens of the region suspected from the start. But while the scare lasted people were afraid to go on vacations lest Ickes place a complete ban on the sale of gasoline before they could dash home, suburbanites were preparing to move to town, and everyone feared the worst from Washington.

Now a shortage of electric power has been discovered in the Southeastern states. Unless heavy rains come within the next few days to replenish the streams furnishing hydro-electric power, an electricity-rationing system will be imposed on November 10. Already a mandatory order for the creation of a giant power grid has been issued. This would put approximately forty publicly and privately owned systems of thirteen states into a pool so that surplus power in one section could be transmitted immediately to a drought-stricken region.

Even before this program of rationing and distribution gets under way, the Office of Production Management has ordered an immediate blackout in seven Southeastern states of all ornamental and unessential lighting. Unless drastic steps are taken to anticipate the power shortage, important units of defense industry in the South may be rendered helpless, it is said.

The cause of the alleged trouble is the drought, the year being one of the driest on record. But there is at least an even chance that the rains will commence before long. It has always rained before in this region. Even if rain comes by December 1, it is said, the situation will be greatly relieved. But non-exempt consumers who used more than 10,000 kilowatt hours during the month from September 15 to October 14 have been ordered to cut consumption.

In seven states store signs and theatre displays and all such conspicuous illumination will be affected. Peachtree Street in Atlanta looks approximately as it did just before the arrival of Sherman. Oil lanterns have replaced electric lights.

LIFE WITHOUT BOOKS

The art of reading for pleasure may become an exclusive affair with a small leisure class, a badge of superiority—hated as such by the toiling masses—it is predicted by Prof. Howard Mumford Jones, of the English Department of Harvard University.

"The world of the future is going to be more picture-minded, more machine-minded, than we dream of," Professor Jones predicted. The camera, he added, is "fundamentally one enemy of the printing press." Already, he pointed out, novels are being published in the form of picture-series—stories without texts—while the movies compete strongly with the printed page as a form of popular entertainment.

He ventured to suggest that perhaps, as a result of future wars and other factors, there would be no such thing as books, in the present sense, in 2041. This would be a safe prediction to make minus all ifs, and buts. No one now living will remember to check up on it a hundred years hence.

And, at the rate the world is progressing, who can say that there will be anything left, in the present sense, ten decades from now?

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Jan. 29, 1880. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

Robert Ivins, James Finney and Jonathan Knight, appointed by the Court to view the place proposed for a county bridge over the Neshaminy at the State Road in Bensalem, to the public road leading from China Hall to the Frankford and Bristol Turnpike, met on the premises on Monday. There was a very large attendance of the solid men from the neighboring country, and the sentiment in favor of a new bridge was overwhelming. The viewers were unanimous in deciding to report favorably upon the project. If the wishes of the people of this end of the county have any weight the new bridge, so long hoped for, will soon be an accomplished fact.

At the approaching election in our borough there will be two councilmen to be voted for from each ward, and one school director from the first, and one from the second ward. The councilmen whose terms expire, are Symington Phillips from the first ward, C. E. Scheide and C. H. Fenton from the second ward; and J. W. Wright and Henry M. Wright from the third ward. The retiring school directors are Miss Peirce from the second ward, and W. H. Hall from the first ward.

The concert of the Bristol Amateur Orchestra, on Tuesday evening, was a gratifying success. Washington Hall was packed to overflowing, every available seat being filled. Miss Jessie Wells sang admirably. Mr. Cuthbert's cornet solo, "Puritan," the "Duo Brillante" by Prof. Busch and Miss Howes; and the piano solo by Miss Eva Swain were also encored. The Bristol Amateur Orchestra is a credit to its director, and an institution for the town to be proud of.

Pursuant to call the Republican Standing Committee met at Purdy's Hotel in Doylestown, on Saturday last, at 11:30 a. m. There was a very large attendance of members and interested Republicans, 29 districts being represented. The districts unrepresented were Bridgeton, Nockamixon and Perkasie.

The meeting was called to order by Alfred Packenthal, chairman of the old committee, who stated that the first business in order would be the election of officers of the committee for the coming campaign, and that nominations for chairman would be received. The names of Henry A. Lloyd and Alfred Packenthal were then placed in nomination for chairman. B. F. Gilkeson, of Bristol, stated that in his opinion it would be unwise for the committee to select a person for chairman who was not a member of the committee, and said he deemed Mr. Packenthal ineligible, as he was not a member of the committee.

Mr. Packenthal replied by saying that he was not anxious to become chairman, that he had become a candidate at the urgent solicitation of many of the Republicans of the county and of members of the committee, and that if the committee should select him he would use his best endeavors to promote the party's success, as in the past.

The ballot was then taken, and resulted in the election of Lloyd, by a vote of 21 to 17. E. Wesley Keeler was chosen secretary.

The question of revising the rules of the party, which was referred to the standing committee at the last county convention, was referred to a committee of nine, to report at the next meeting of the committee. The chair subsequently appointed Messrs. B. F.

Gilkeson, Samuel Davis, Ingham Watson, John W. Gilbert, A. S. Godshalk, William Baum, Dr. Joseph Thomas, Tobias Nash and E. M. Ott as such committee.

The Bristol Improvement Company.—The fourth annual meeting of the stockholders of this company was held in the office of the company, on Tuesday afternoon; and after listening to the reports of the secretary and treasurer, selected the following board of directors: William H. Grundy, Charles W. Peirce, Robert W. Rogers, and Charles E. Scheide. Joshua Peirce

Claim Ship Capture Stories Conflict

Berlin, Nov. 17.—A German Government spokesman declared today that reports conflict in their accounts of an alleged Axis merchant ship captured by an American warship in Equatorial waters. Therefore, he said, there will be no German announcement regarding the incident pending further investigation. If the ship actually flew foreign colors, a foreign spokesman said, "it could be in the company of the United States' best friends."

Hitler Names Rosenberg To Post

Berlin, Nov. 17.—Chancellor Hitler has appointed Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi cultural chief and director of the Foreign Office of the National Socialist Party, as Civil Governor of occupied Russia, it was announced officially today. In his new post, Rosenberg will govern occupied Russian territories where fighting has ceased.

Do Your Bit To Foster Friendly Relations By Giving A Good Neighbor Party

Even if you can't go cruising through the Caribbean or rolling down a Rio you can do your bit for friendly relations with the countries to the south by giving a Good Neighbor party at home. If your guests are contented, you can please them with a set of geographical questions on South America's longest river, highest mountain, greatest population, largest country, and other such subjects. If they like dancing, then specialize on tangoes and rumbas.

Whatever entertainment they enjoy, they will all look forward to refreshments characteristic of one of the southern lands. It's a good idea to serve decaffeinated coffee, so that all your guests can linger over second and third cups in the leisurely fashion that characterizes South American hospitality, without losing sleep later on. Co-star the coffee with an interesting fruit dessert in the southern manner.

Spiced Coffee

6 cups decaffeinated coffee
1/2 cup whipping cream, whipped
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Top each cup of coffee with a spoonful of whipped cream into which the pieces have been folded. Sugar may be served with the coffee, if desired. You can use your favorite method for making this coffee. Be sure you make it strong. Use regular grind for percolated or boiled coffee and drip grind for drip or glass maker, a heaping tablespoon for each cup—and if you "perk" it, give it a few extra minutes on the fire.

Banana Whirl

1 or 2 egg yolks
4 cups milk
1/3 cup quick cooking tapioca
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 or 2 egg whites
1 teaspoon flavoring
Mix egg yolk with small amount of milk in saucepan. Add quick cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, and remaining milk. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin. Do not over-cook.) Beat egg white until just stiff enough to hold shape. Fold hot tapioca mixture gradually into egg white. Cool—mixture thickens as it cools. When slightly cool, stir in flavoring. Chill. Cut oblique slices of bananas and arrange as border around sherbet glasses. Fill with tapioca. Garnish with slices of maraschino cherries.

Lobster a la Newburg

1 pint lobster meat
1 cup cream
2 egg yolks
4 tbsps. butter
1/2 tsp. flour
1 tsp. lemon juice
Salt and paprika

Melt three tablespoons butter and in this heat the diced lobster. In small saucepan melt the other tablespoon butter, stir in flour and cook, then add the cup of cream, whisking until it is smooth; when at the boiling point draw aside from fire and add the beaten egg yolks, stirring as it thickens; then add the lobster and seasonings. When very hot serve with slices of thin dry toast, or toasted crackers. Do not boil again after adding yolks or mixture will curdle.

Fish Croquettes

2 cups flaked fish
2 tps. Worcestershire sauce
2 tps. lemon juice
2 cups milk
1/2 cup oil or butter
1/2 cup flour
Salt and paprika

Scald the milk. Heat the oil or butter, sift the flour, stir together and cook, adding the pint of milk all at once, beating vigorously until it has become smooth. Add the seasonings and fish, blending all together and tasting until very stiff. Roll in finely sifted bread crumbs to shape, then in beaten egg to which a tablespoon of water is added (although in making a larger quantity as much water as egg may be added), then in the crumbs again.

FASHION PARADE

By Orry-Kelly

(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing For International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Despite the slightly damp weather the usual crowds have been jamming the football stadiums with very little difference between the togs worn by college girls in the blustery East and screen girls in the equally blustery West. Even when California deserves its "sunny" reputation such football fans as Gracie Allen, Brenda Marshall, Bety Grable, Deanna Durbin, Anne Shirley and a host of other charmers, like their clothes to have "that Eastern look."

You see, most of these touchdown enthusiasts hail from the East where football, hot dogs and heavy fur coats go together. For that reason, on the hottest day, a screen player will top her silk or light weight wool dress with a heavy opposum coat which she may remove at will (opposum's the favorite right now), or she'll at least get the wintry effect with tweeds, fur trim, suede.

Nancy Coleman has an autumn-toned suede sports coat for wear on one of these infrequent warmish Saturdays and because the new suedes have a more velvet-like finish than ever it looks like an opera coat when Nancy wears it to dinner right after the game. As her outfit lines up the coat, resembling a trench number, is in leaf green, her dress is in corn yellow wool, her bag in cocoa suede and her hair-concealing turban and wrist-length gloves are a coat match. Nancy Coleman is also the lucky girl who got the part of Louise in "Kings Row."

Husband and wife with an hour to enjoy together!

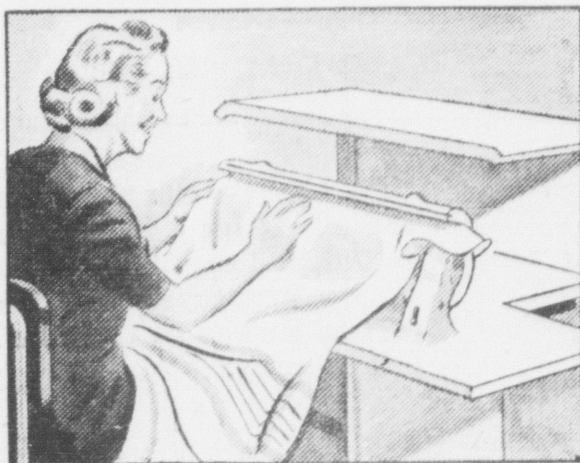

A luxury in living that only wealth could purchase one short generation ago. Yet today it is taken for granted. Household duties are swiftly done, done without fatigue. Vacuum cleaners, electric irons, washers, toasters, electric refrigerators, a dozen and one electrical servants to see to that.

At the husband's office or shop it is the same. More things done more easily, in less time.

Thus have precious moments been provided for the better things in life.

Realizing how intimately electricity is tied up with the everyday lives of everybody, Philadelphia Electric has spared no labor or expense to provide better electrical service at low costs.

The men and women of Philadelphia Electric—skilled in management and operation, highly trained for their individual duties—will strive to see that this progress continues. They are your neighbors and friends. Feel free to call upon them whenever they can be of help.

Never before was ironing so easy... never was electricity for this and other household tasks so cheap. Count your electric servants, and remember—in the Philadelphia Electric area your electric penny will buy about twice as much electricity as fifteen years ago.

Electric light, too, costs less in Philadelphia Electric territory. Due to progressive management, efficient operation and the most modern of equipment, a 60-watt bulb will give more light in your home at 36.5% less cost for electricity than 10 years ago.

From the morning coffee and toast to "Lights Out" at night, electricity is your constant servant. It helps with America's drive for national defense and the housewives' drive for an end to drudgery. Today it does more than ever, for less than ever.

Large Company Witnesses
The Black-Bruner Nuptials

A nuptial ceremony witnessed by a large company here on Saturday afternoon at the hour of four, was that which united Miss Berenice Bruner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris O. Bruner, 326 Mill street, and Mr. John C. Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Black, Sr., of 204 Cedar street.

The attractive wedding was solemnized in Bristol Presbyterian Church, by the Rev. James R. Gailey; with Mrs. Marburg D. Weagley presiding at the organ console.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by three young women and a flower girl, they entering the church to the strains of a bridal march played by the organist. Prior to the ceremony, Mr. Percy G. Ford sang a group of selections, including "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Because."

Miss Helen M. Bruner attended her sister as maid of honor; and Miss Lillie Gorton, Mill street, and Mrs. William A. Groff, Radcliffe street, were the bridesmaids. Little Lois Black, a niece of the groom, was flower girl. Serving Mr. Black as groomsman was his brother, Mr. S. Wilson Black, Jr., of Taff street; and ushers were inclusive of Mr. Horace C. Schmidt, Otter street; Dr. William A. Groff, Radcliffe street; Mr. Robert C. Ruehl, Jr., Cedar street; and Mr. Arnold North, Jefferson avenue.

A floor-length gown of white silk jersey, with sweeping train, was worn by the bride. The full skirt was attached to a long torso bodice; sleeves were long, and the neckline was cut sweetheart style. With this she wore a Juliet cap of illusion with applique of satin leaves, which held illusion veiling. Slippers were of white satin, and she carried a white Bible on top of which was placed orchids, a shower being formed of bouvardia.

Miss Helen Bruner, the maid of honor, was attired in a floor-length gown of aqua taffeta, with square cut neckline and short puffed sleeves. The gown had trim of velvet in a deeper aqua shade; and her peacock blue accessories included lace mitts, and poke bonnet of velvet. Draped veiling for the bonnet was also in peacock blue. She wore silver slippers, and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers with bow of peacock blue ribbon.

The gowns selected for the occasion by the bridesmaids were fashioned alike, but in different color tones. Miss Gorton wore peach and Mrs. Groff a soft shade of blue. The gowns of taffeta had trim of velvet in deeper shade than the taffeta. Necklines were V-shape, and the long torsos were fitted; skirts were cut full and were floor-length; with sleeves being seven-eighths length. The two maids wore silver slippers; and accessories of both were of duobonnet, these including halos of velvet flowers with draped veiling; and lace mitts. Their colonial bouquets were composed of a variety of flowers tied with duobonnet ribbon. The flower girl wore a floor-length dress of peacock blue taffeta, it having sweetheart neckline, and short puffed sleeves. Trim was of duobonnet velvet ribbon. Her halo was composed of tiny peacock blue plumes; slippers were white, and her small colonial bouquet was made up of mixed flowers.

For the ceremony Mrs. Bruner, mother of the bride, wore a two-piece moss green dress of sheer wool; a large matching felt hat, accessories of black; and a corsage of Johanna Hill rose-buds. Mrs. Black, the groom's mother, selected for the occasion a black velvet dress, black felt hat with trim of American beauty shade, accessories of black; and a corsage of American Beauty rose-buds. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. George Mount, Wood street, was attired in a two-piece dress of dark plum silk crepe. Her matching hat was of felt, it being trimmed with velvet flowers. A corsage of camellias was worn.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Gailey)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

Almighty God. Whose power is able to do all things, keep our feet from unbidden paths, and our eyes from tears. Or, if the tears must come, let the Comforter come as well, that He might wipe them all away. Temper to us the long night watches of pain and sorrow. If weeping endure for a night, bring joy in the morning; and when the long afternoon shadows deepen toward the eventide of this world's day, bring us very gently to the turn of the road from whence we may catch the vision of the home eternal. May this, our present habitation, be a promise and a foretaste of the house whose maker and builder is God. In the Name of Christ. Amen.

Members of the bridal party and of the families of the contracting couple were served at dinner at Fischer's Tea Room, Scudders Falls, N. J., following the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Black are participating in a 10-day trip to Florida. For the journey the bride was attired in a black wool suit with short fitted jacket. Her large hat was of felt with trim of green suede; slippers of alligator skin; and she wore a corsage of orchids. The newlyweds will reside in an apartment at 204 Cedar street.

Gifts of the bride to the maid of honor and bridesmaids were fitted overnight bags; and to the flower girl a strand of pearls and matching bracelet. Mr. Black presented his groomsman and ushers with pencil-style lighters.

The former Miss Bruner is a graduate of Bristol high school, and of Peirce Business School, Philadelphia. The groom graduated from Bristol high school, and from Eckles College of Embalming, Philadelphia.

Mrs. George Douglass who has been ill at her home, sustained a broken hip a few days ago.

A son was born yesterday in the Wagner private hospital, Bristol, to the Rev. and Mrs. Walter H. Canon, of Philadelphia, former residents here.

The baby, who weighed 9 pounds, 14 ounces, has been named John Charles.

Miss Marie Hanson entertained over the week-end her sister, Miss Edna Hanson, of Philadelphia.

Members of the Methodist official board will meet tonight at the residence of Norman Straw, Emille Road.

A party was enjoyed by members of the Methodist Epworth League and their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Berthaux, on Wednesday evening. A social time was followed by the serving of refreshments.

BENSALEM HIGH ELEVEN TURNS BACK LANGHORNE AND WINS BY THE SCORE OF 19 TO 12

(By Jack Gill)

Captain Dick Mossbrook and speedy Len Ejdys came through with necessary touchdown plays as Bensalem High School turned back an improved Langhorne High School eleven, Saturday afternoon, by a 19 to 12 tally. The game, played under a beaming sun in Indian Summer-like atmosphere, was in doubt until the final moments.

Bensalem scored its only 19 points in seven minutes. Going into the second quarter, the Owls were trailing Langhorne, 6 to 0. Dick Mossbrook slipped through the center of the Red-skin line and broke loose on a 60-yard touchdown gallop to even the count at 6-6. His extra point placement made it 7-6. A few moments later Lamb intercepted a pass on the 25-yard stripe and seven plays thereafter Hugh Deans shot a left-handed pass to Gene Ashton in the end zone, sending Bensalem into a 13 to 6 lead. Then Len Ejdys intercepted Bob Reed's pass to run 35 yards for another six-pointer to give the Blue and Grey a 19 to 6 advantage.

Langhorne, opening up a bag of offensive tricks for the first time this season, surprised the Owls with passes galore, particularly short heaves over the line. In the first quarter, the Redskins took possession on Ashton's punt on the 45-yard marker. Reed then shot an aerial that Wheatley snatched on the Owls' 35. Flannery nabbed Reed's next heave on the 20. Cloak spun nicely off-tackle to the 13 and on the next play threw a pass that Wheatley caught over the goal line, sending Langhorne into a 6-0 advantage.

At the start of the second semester, Flannery caught a long pass that went to the Bensalem 12, but here Langhorne stalled and Carter ended the threat by intercepting. Bensalem, starting with Mossbrook's thrilling trick through the line, the most brilliant run of the afternoon, then proceeded to hang up 19 points before the Redskins could garner their bearings.

Behind by a 19 to 6 count going into the third period, Langhorne took possession on their own 35-yard stripe. On a lateral behind the line of scrimmage, followed by a long pass to Lou Spattacino, the Redskins advanced to the Bensalem 25. Knox shot a short pass to Flannery to the 30 and Spattacino twisted his way to the 25. With Reed and Cloak leading the way on reverses and spinners, the ball went to the 2 from where Ken Clark went over to make it 19-12.

For Bensalem, Mossbrook and Ejdys pulled the game through, while Gene Ashton played nice ball. Langhorne had little Lou Spattacino, a diminutive, twisting rabbit type of back, as their ace, while Edgar Sealey led the line.

Bensalem, by virtue of the victory, remained in a second-place tie with Fallsington in the Little Four Conference, while Langhorne slipped to the cellar. The winner of next week's Fallsington-Bensalem conflict stands an outside chance of deadlocking Newtown for the championship only providing Langhorne pulls an upset over their traditional foes on Turkey Day.

FALLS ALUMNI CRUSHES ST. ANN'S GRIDDEERS

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 17.—Led by the fleet-footed Al Doster, the Falls Alumni team crushed the St. Ann's A. A. griddeers yesterday afternoon on Island field, before a large crowd. Final score was 12-0.

The score does not indicate the margin of victory for the Orange and Black as it rolled up a total of eleven first downs to the Bristol team's five.

The Doherty-coached boys made the best of every "break" they received while on the other hand, the "Saints" did not capitalize on any of the many "breaks" which went their way in the sixty-minutes of struggling.

The game may have been much closer had not the Falls team had a youngster in the backfield by the name of Doster. It was Doster who scored both touchdowns and converted the extra point. It was this same Edgely lad who was on the receiving end of several passes and it was he who on three different occasions brought the ball from his own territory to the St. Ann's scoring land with long runs.

When the St. Ann's team bottled Doster in the second half, Nick Wasiurki stepped into the picture and began to rip off long gains and then Stan Felkner began to toss the passes, leaving Doster to do some of his long range punting.

On the whole, the Alumni team was better from start to finish. The team played in fine unison and the interference given to the ball-carriers was the best seen this season. The Fallsington line held up wonderfully and blocked more than one of the St. Ann's plays.

Both teams had a poor aerial attack although it was a forward wish scored the first Falls touchdown. St. Ann's attempted eight passes, completed two and had two intercepted. Falls went to the air twelve times, completed three and also had two intercepted.

A St. Ann's fumble in the first quarter gave Falls its first scoring opportunity. The fumble took place on the fifteen yard line and was recovered by Jadlocki. After attempting three plays without a gain, Doster stepped back and attempted a field goal from the 22. The ball went wide of its mark.

St. Ann's booted out of danger but another drive swept it off its feet. Doster from his own 45 yard line broke away and when downed was on the St. Ann's 28 yard line. On the first play after his run, Doster whipped a pass to Jadlocki and the ball rested on the St. Ann's 12.

The St. Ann's line held for three downs and on the fourth try a pass was attempted with Killian intercepting on the 2 yard line. Rue kicked to midfield but a St. Ann's penalty nullified the boot and the play was recalled. This time Rue kicked to the 30. After two line plays failed, Felkner rifled a pass to Doster who went over the final chalk stripe for the score. Doster place-kicked the extra point.

Before the first period was over, St. Ann's passed up a grand scoring opportunity. "Jimmy" Rue broke through and blocked a kick which was recovered by Mignoni on the 11 yard line. Peterpaul went through tackle for three yards but here the St. Ann's team was stopped dead in its tracks and lost the ball on downs.

St. Ann's started a drive of its own in the third period which netted two consecutive first downs but an intercepted pass stopped this. In the fourth period, Clem Peterpaul got off for a 30 yard run but two plays after this, a pass from center got away from the St. Ann's backfield and was recovered by Falls on the St. Ann's 30.

This paved the way for the second touchdown which came to a climax when Doster dove over the center of the line for the score. Doster tried an end run for the conversion point but failed.

BRISTOL RAMBLERS WIN HARD-FOUGHT BATTLE

FRANKFORD, Nov. 15.—Saturday evening at the Frankford Rollerdom the Bristol Ramblers defeated the Newburgh roller hockey club 1 to 0.

This is the fourth victory in five games this season for the Ramblers. From the opening whistle the boys from up the Hudson started vicious blocking, tripping and clever stick handling.

The Ramblers soon realized that they had to change their tactics and the game soon developed into a rough, slam-bang game. Nearing the end of the first period in an excellent criss-cross play Bowers took a pass from Bowen and shot the puck into the net for the only score of the game.

In the 3rd period there was a couple of fights as the play became tense. Bankley squared off with Bud Ritter but peace was soon restored and play went on.

With but two minutes of play remaining Leamey started a fight with George Ritter as the Newburgh boys began to rough it up with the Ramblers' center man. After action was resumed Coach Pop Keene took George Ritter out of the game in order to keep the game from developing into a free-for-all. The entire Ramblers squad played exceptionally good hockey in defeating one of the best clubs that they have ever played.

Other adult characters are Constance Johnson as the Dean of Women, and Lester Eagle, Dean of University Men. Both add largely to the fun of the play. The remaining character part, that of a doctor, is being taken by William Lamb.

The play is being put through the final phases of production with stage crew, business manager, and other committee working along with the cast and directors. Tickets are going rapidly as the senior class promises an evening of unusual entertainment for all who patronize their performance.

Army Bomber Crashes

By International News Service

Park City, Utah, Nov. 17.—An army bomber crashed and burned on blizzard-swept iron mountains in the Wasatch Range early today, carrying one airman to his death after six others had parachuted from the wallowing plane during a heavy sleet storm.

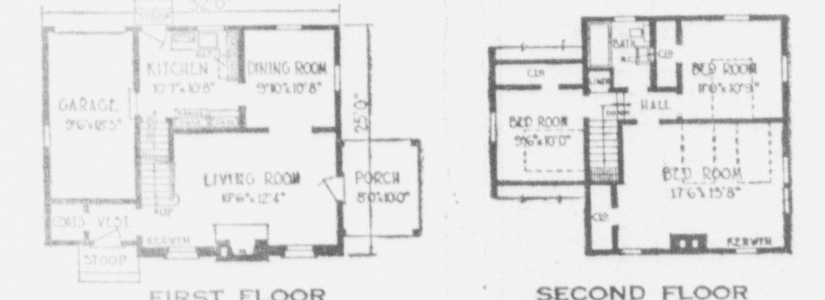

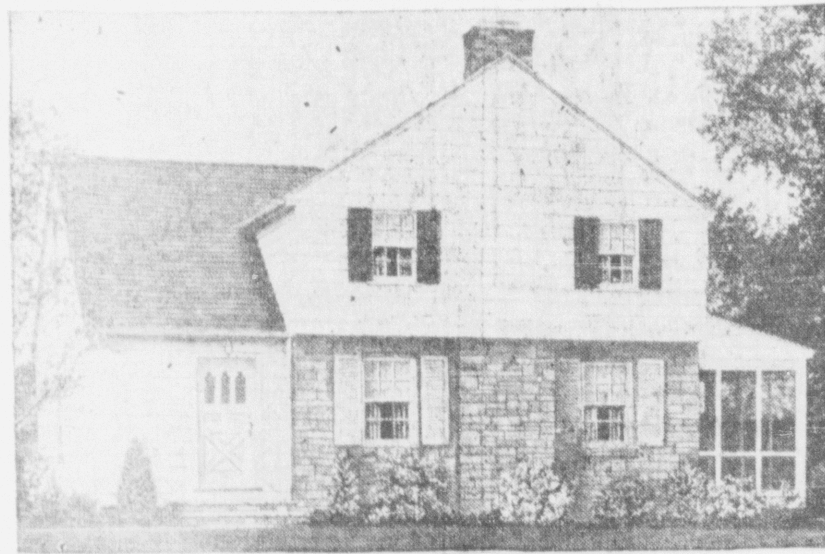

One of the six men who leaped from the two motored ship was still missing, preventing official identification of the lone airman who went down with the bomber when it plunged from the stormy skies four miles southeast of Park City.

Discerning home builders will have more than a passing interest in the "Kervin" because of its straightforward appearance and intelligent use of space. The main house, itself, is not large, although the porch on one side and garage on the other make it appear so. This design lends itself well to the use of low shrubbery and the dignified stone facing at the front, topped by wide, horizontal siding on the second story adds immeasurably to its charm. Inside are six comfortable rooms, grouped in a most livable arrangement. 20,050 cubic feet.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

The thrilling story about Britain's flying fighters, "A Yank in the R. A. F." was shown last night at the Grand Theatre. It is a really outstanding film, with action dominating. Star Tyrone Power is magnificent as the Yank; and Betty Grable is grand as his American dancer sweetheart.

All of the skill of Director Henry King was used to make the exciting scenes stand out. And there are plenty that do—the Dunkirk evacuation, with the cast of thousands performing realistically to provide the year's top battle scene; the dog fights which were actually filmed by the R. A. F. in action; a tense flight in a British bomber flying high over Germany; dive bombers attacking fleeing boats.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Fred Astaire and Rita Hayworth, dancing and romancing to Cole Porter's music, come to the Bristol Theatre in the lavish new army camp musical, "You'll Never Get Rich."

The all-out, all-comedy cast includes Robert Benchley, John Hubbard, Osa Massen, Frieda Inescort, Guinn Williams and Donald MacBride.

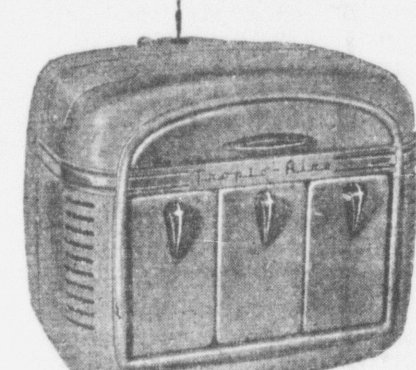

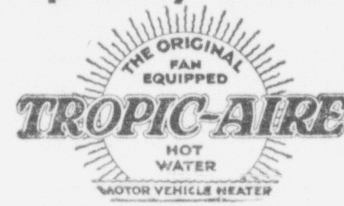

RITZ THEATRE

Filmdom's most dynamic threesome are starred in Warner Bros.' exciting film, "Manpower," which makes its local bow at the Ritz Theatre. The unbeatable star combination which heads the cast is Edward G. Robinson, Marlene Dietrich and George Raft. You can imagine the action and excitement that sweeps through the film when those three get together!
